We are continuing our journey to fighting cyberbullying and hate speech. We know visualisation of the problem is just the beginning, but we are confident that we will achieve results that will bring educators, families, and children together to counter one of the biggest threats our youngest face all over the world nowadays.

Workshops in Schools

DIGIPRO's partners not only work from the office, but we're very active in engaging communities' members to spread our message and learn from them. Working alongside educators and children and their families have been essential in the development of this project. The creation of our tools wouldn't have been possible without their involvement.

Didactic Guidelines

We have created two didactic paths that can be used together with the Cartoons created by the children: one for schools and one for families.

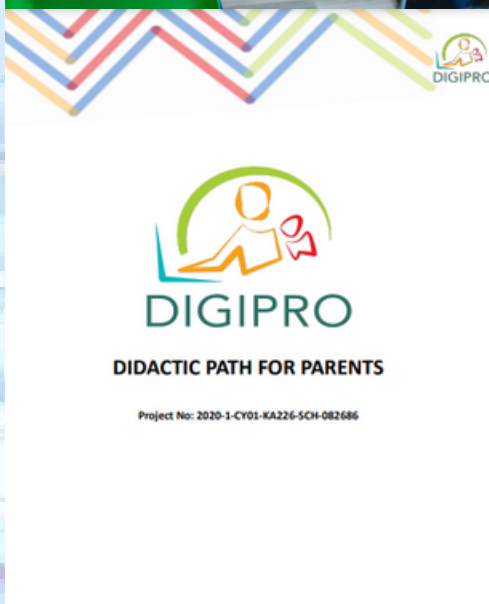

These guides contain activities on the topics we talk about in the Cartoons:

- Sympathy and Compassion
- Respect and Forgiveness
- Benevolence and Acceptance
- Empathy and Patience
- Kindness and Caring

The activities are accessible. They are a way to promote awareness and can be used as a resource for prevention and empowerment.
